Christmas good cheer and best wishes for 2017

A Happy Christmas and greetings for 2017 to all our readers from the Community News team.

A huge THANK YOU

On behalf of all the residents of our parish we would like to express our sincere thanks to a certain gentleman and his willing helper. You know who you are!

For the last fifteen years, at least, you have both contributed enormously to the community and festive spirit, especially for all the children, in the parish.

We all wish you all the very best in your well deserved retirement.

Merry Christmas from Sunflowers at Grafton

Vast quantities of glitter and sparkles are consumed as imaginations go wild this term. Our annual Creative Morning at the Coronation Hall was, as promised, a frenzy of present making. By the time this December Community News reaches you our ABC Nativity will have been performed to a packed St Nicholas' Church and our party day, with a visit from Father Christmas, will be a few days away.

The TreeHouse Holiday Club is open from Monday 19 December to Friday 23 December with a range of wonderful activities to keep primary school children busy. Perfect to create a little bit of time and space to complete those last minute jobs! The full timetable can be found at www.sunflowers-grafton.org/uk/treehouse/holiday-club.

Thank you to the Vallis family

At least 75 people attended the Remembrance at the War memorial in East Grafton on 13 November.

A very dignified and appropriate act of remembrance was organised and conducted by Pete Vallis.

All the work involved in preparing the music, service sheets, power for the loud speakers and arranging readers and contributors was a huge task - not to mention the printing and distribution of the invitations.

Congratulations on a successful event and thank you to all the Vallis family from the Parish community.

Our Doctor writes

Many of us probably carry a donor card, or may have lost the donor card in the passage of time. Registering on line is easy and takes two minutes to do.

Hospitals will have access to this information if the situation becomes grave, and it is very comforting for surviving relatives to know that the dying person has made that decision and all they need to do is honour that agreement. It is also important that families have that conversation beforehand.

You can donate all of your organs (kidney, heart, liver, small bowel, cornea (surface of the eye), pancreas, lungs, tissue) or you can specify which organs you want to donate. If you have specific instructions you can appoint a representative to make decisions on your behalf. You can withdraw from the register at any time or if you feel that you do not want to donate your organs then you can also register this decision. The address to register your decision on line is www.organdonation.nhs.uk/register-to-donate. If you do not have internet access there are forms available at the surgery for anyone to collect, even if you are registered at another surgery. Your own surgery is also likely to have forms. Alternatively you can call NHS Blood and Transplant on 0300 1232323.

It is possible to become a living donor and there is information on the website about how to do this. A living donor can donate a kidney, part of the liver, bone and amniotic membrane. Bone removed during a total hip replacement can be donated for bone grafts and pregnant women can donate the amniotic membrane surrounding the placenta which is then used in eye surgery. Placental cord blood can also be donated.

Many of you already donate blood. Over 6,000 blood donations are needed every day to treat patients in England. Most people between 17 and 65 are able to give blood and up to 70 if you have given blood before. Men can give blood every 12 weeks and women every 16. More donors from Black, Asian and minority ethnic communities are particularly needed. There is an eligibility questionnaire covering issues about receiving treatment, taking medication, travelling outside of the UK, tattoos, pregnancy, illness, cancer, received blood, blood products or organs. You cannot donate if you are HIV positive, carry hepatitis B or C, or have HTLV (Human T-cell Lymphotropic virus). You can register to give blood on line at www.blood.co.uk and you can book an appointment on line to donate at a centre near you. You can also call on 0300 1232323. The next blood drive at Marlborough Leisure Centre is on 15 December and Hungerford Town Hall on 5 January.

Next month I plan to write about how the practice (or your own practice if not registered) might be able to help you stick to those New Year resolutions to get fit, eat more healthily, drink less alcohol, do more exercise, lose weight and stop smoking!
Be well, best wishes. Dr Angela Paddon

Making Music in Pewsey and surrounding villages

The Wiltshire Rural Music School is trying to reach out to and support music making in and around the Pewsey area. If you are involved in music making of any sort in your community, they would love to hear from you. They may even be able to help you. To find out more...

The Rural Crime partnership

Superintendent Phil Staynings heads this new partnership to help improve confidence for those living within rural communities in Wiltshire. People should feel empowered to report rural crime to Wiltshire Police and can be reassured that the police will act on all information received. Members of the board include representatives from Wiltshire Police, the Wiltshire Rural Crime Team, the National Farmers Union, the Country Landowners Association, the National Gamekeepers Organisation, the Ministry of Defence Salisbury Plain, the Angling Trust. Police and Crime Commissioner Angus Macpherson said: "I am very encouraged that organisations from across the county have joined together in partnership to focus on rural crime. Wiltshire is a rural county so it is important that the operational policing of the area is guided by the knowledge and advice of those organisations working within our communities."

British Legion Poppy Appeal

£588.72 was collected from East Grafton, Marten and Wilton in the weeks leading up to Remembrance Day.

INFORMAL CONSULTATION ON POSSIBLE APPLICATION TO DEREGISTER WILTON BRAIL as common land under the Commons Act 2006: Section 16

After many years of research into the history and archaeology of the Brails, it transpires that an error was made when Wilton Brail was registered as common land under the 1965 Commons Registration Act back in 1972. The Commons Act 2006 : Section 16 allows for errors to be corrected. The Planning Inspectorate who process such applications, advise that there should be a period of informal consultation prior to making the application.

To this end a report has been prepared outlining the history of Wilton Brail and the reasons why and how the error occurred. This report has been submitted to Great Bedwyn and Grafton Parish Councils and other local interest groups for informal consultation over the next three months, commencing 1 December. The report will also be viewable in Bedwyn or contact Richard Charles (see below).

Following this period of consultation, if the decision is made to deregister, then notices will be placed at the entrances to Wilton Brail and the application documents will be able to be viewed locally. There will then be a period of 28 days in which to write comments to the Planning Inspectorate

Wilton Brail is registered as common land under the 1965 Commons Registration Act, and mapped as access land under the 2000 Countryside Rights of Way Act. If it is decided to apply for deregistration, this will in no way affect the existing public footpaths in Wilton Brail.
